The image shows a screenshot of the WordPress Admin Design Kickoff interface for the Atomic theme. On the left is a sidebar with a blue header containing the Atomic logo and the name "Atomic". Below this is a "Design" section with a back arrow and the text "Customize the appearance of your website using the block editor." A list of design options follows: "Navigation", "Styles" (highlighted), "Pages", "Templates", and "Patterns", each with a right-pointing arrow. The main content area features a navigation menu with "Shop", "About", "Contact", and a shopping cart icon. Below the menu is the heading "Atomic" in a large, bold font, followed by the text "A carefully curated collection of exquisitely designed products that are sure to captivate your senses and enhance your everyday life." At the bottom, there are three vertical panels showing minimalist interior design: a light blue wall with a white arched niche, a solid orange wall with three white cylindrical pedestals, and a light grey wall with a white rectangular panel and a vertical light fixture.

Elementor et l'IA

Utilise l'IA pour :

- avec un prompt
- une variation d'un design elementor
- en s'inspirant d'une url

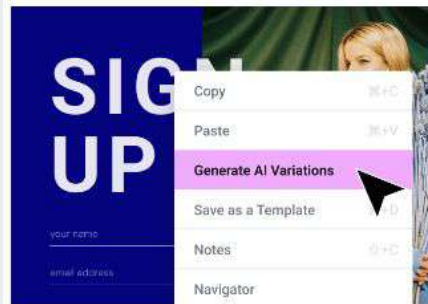

<https://elementor.com/blog/new-web-creation-experience-with-elementor-ai-for-containers/>

Text-Based

Write a prompt that describes any design you want and Elementor AI will build the container and necessary widgets that will bring it to life.
